

SATURDAY, MAY 17, 1952

"Rocky" Roberts Succeeds Hawxhurst as WNTC Head; Hawxhurst Gives Full Report on Station Improvements

The executive board of directors of the campus radio station held elections to determine the officers for the school year of 1952-53, at their meeting, May 2.

At the annual banquet for station personnel held at the Knotty Pine Lodge, Wednesday evening, May 14, Edwin Hawxhurst, retiring station manager, revealed the results of these elections. Rockwood "Rocky" Roberts was named as his successor. Roberts had formerly been programming director.

Other Officers Named

Aiding him as assistant station manager will be Sally Cavanaugh, of PSTC. The other nominations are composed of: Betty Walsoe, secretary; Robert Menne, program director; June Weber, publicity chairman; Fred Trinkle, engineering chairman; Joan Kirnie, director of record librarians; Lewis Schoonmaker and James McHarg, business and sales; Edgar Muth, director of control-room operators; and Selig Brooks, director of announcers.

ROCKWOOD ROBERTS

At the banquet Hawxhurst gave a short speech in summation of the station's achievements and improvements made during the past year.

Present at the banquet as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McGill. Mr. McGill is the Clarkson faculty advisor to the station.

Founded in 1947

WNTC was founded in 1947, consisting of twenty-two students. Today, it is over twice that number. In March, 1948, the station presented its first program using a carrier transmitter.

Studio Was Moved

Since that time, a studio was provided in the attic of the president's building. The increase in staff members required more ample facilities, and the station moved into the barn behind Crane House.

Agreements with recording companies constantly fill the 1200-record library. Last year, a record was set when a hockey game in Lake Placid, 80 miles away, was broadcasted.